

GARDEN CRAFT

The Kiss of the sun for Pardon,
The song of the birds for Mirth;
One is nearer God's heart in a garden
Than anywhere else on earth."

—Author unknown.

This is the Mathews Hall Mark. Graved in the wood of bench, chair or table, it is a sign of painstaking and sincere craftsmanship as that of the silversmith, of materials selected with thorough care, of designs which, when borrowed from the past, are authentic to the slightest detail of line or curve, and, when modern, harmonize with the best in latter day art.

From an Old Painting showing No. B9 Seat

"Let us improve our home and make every spot within and without a pleasure to the beauty-loving eye. To help create beauty in the world is to help God's ideals.

"We have an earthly Eden, and we must try to grow worthy of it by developing all its charms."

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Foreword

MAKING the garden more livable is a big subject in these out-door days. Attractive gardens are not necessarily livable, for, unless they are provided with restful nooks where there are shade and comfortable furniture, the term "out-door living room" cannot be applied. This world-wide propaganda of making all out-doors your living room means more interest in life, better health and infinitely more happiness.

The examples here shown are merely to illustrate what has been and suggest what may be done in equipping the out-door living room, and are, for the most part, of work which we have carried out in various parts of the country. A considerable number of them, however, especially of the furniture, are replicas of old English and French pieces.

Our architectural office is continually making special designs to meet the artistic and practical requirements of definite locations. We are ready to consult with you on the subject of your garden furnishings.

Your own designs, or those of your architect, will be faithfully executed.

Measurements taken in any part of country.

Our New York office will be glad to consult and advise with our Eastern trade.

Export trade given particular attention.

On a seat similar to this (perhaps) Falstaff and his royal playmate foregathered for a lusty bout with the tankard. At any rate, 'tis an inn-seat such as faced the highroad to invite weary wayfarers to rest.

March 23rd, 1754."*

"Some of the professions have been diligent enough to represent them (especially those after the Gothic and Chinese manner) as so many specious Drawings, impossible to be worked off by any Mechanic whatsoever. I will not scruple to attribute this to Malice, Ignorance and Inability; and I am confident that I can convince all Noblemen, Gentlemen, or others, who will honour me with their Commands, that every design in the book can be improved, both as to its beauty and Enrichment and in the execution of it, by

"There is a sense of breeding about a really fine chair (such as is shown) which is in the lattice or Chinese style of Chippendale. The suggestion of the Oriental is, of course, more fanciful than actual, but whatever the style may have been called, the result is happy."

Dear Sir:

I have your letter of the 14th, which was forwarded to me from Mt. Carmel, Pa. The Pergola was erected before I left and I am very much pleased with it. I will have it photographed when I get back to Mt. Carmel, which will be some time next week and will send you a print of it.

Yours truly,

The Rose Arch you made for me is exceptionally happy in proportions. I gave you the measurement from memory. I had in mind when I ordered it, one of the famous bridges in the Mikado's Garden in Tokio, and I see, from comparison with the original photograph, that I came near giving you the right dimensions; of course, reduced in size. I hope to send you a photograph of this presently, when the Roses and Wistaria I am trailing along it, come into bloom. The Arch runs across one end of a cement Lily Pool, and the reflection in the water is exceptionally pretty and effective.

Yours truly,

Curt P. Peiffer

Gentlemen:

I would be pleased to have you forward me your descriptive Catalogue of Porch and Lawn furniture. I recently saw one of your Summer Houses, which was bought second hand in the year 1916, and had been painted but once, but it looked just as good as if it just came from the factory.

Thanking you in advance, and awaiting your valued reply, I am
Very truly yours,
